Handwritten text in English: Mrs. Provati Ambrose wife of A. Ambrose. She is a Christian, Indian, occupation house wife resident of St. Xavier's School A.B.L. Township Duggaper. P.S. Duggaper Dist: Burdwan.

Handwritten text in Bengali, appearing to be a mirrored or bleed-through version of the English text above. The text is written in a cursive style and is largely illegible due to the mirroring effect.

1. The first step is to prepare a solution of the starting materials in a suitable solvent. The concentration of the solution should be adjusted according to the desired composition of the perovskite. The solution is then spin-coated onto a substrate, which is then annealed at a temperature above the glass transition temperature of the polymer matrix. This process results in the formation of a thin, uniform film of the perovskite.

2. The second step is to deposit a second layer of the perovskite. This is done by spin-coating a second solution of the starting materials onto the first layer. The concentration of the second solution should be adjusted to match the first layer. The second layer is then annealed at the same temperature as the first layer.

3. The final step is to remove the solvent from the film. This is done by heating the film at a temperature above the boiling point of the solvent. The resulting film is then dried at a temperature above the glass transition temperature of the polymer matrix.
