

A photograph of a dirt road leading to a construction site. The road is unpaved and shows tire tracks. To the left, there is a large area of tall green grass and some debris, including a metal frame. In the background, there are several multi-story buildings under construction, with cranes visible. A yellow excavator is parked on the right side of the road. A red rectangular box is overlaid on the image, containing the text "Club Fest" in white. The sky is overcast and grey.
